

P.O. Cove

5/14/13

Dear Sam,

I believe I never answered that note of yours re the Volunteers.

I don't think it would be any use us trying to start them down here. No one thinks us the young, or some of them. or modern ladies don't take it up and only make a failure of it. The whole of our crowd, even if they were all united and working, have not numbers enough to follow enough, to put the thing by.

And I'm quite sure the radicals and the rest would furnish opposition at once if we started a public movement.
I think it would be wise to do nothing, at least until the Dublin thing is well established and 'veritable'.

See article in today's Examiner that the importation of arms is going to be stopped.

One thing we certainly must consider is the making of a vigil club. I don't know what it would not but it certainly ought to be practicable I have not thought of it at all?

would there be any chance of holding more meetings (9.4) later than 3 on Sat. That away onward here for me.

I would be about the earliest I could manage, unless an early morning meeting, 11, which would leave me free in the afternoon.

Do you

Yours faithfully
